

Great Britain Moves for American Aid in Reparations Settlement

NOTES OF CURZON AND HUGHES MADE PUBLIC
Views on Proposals for Conference on Reparations Problem Are Exchanged

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
LONDON, Oct. 25.—The telegram from Marquis Curzon, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, to the British Charge d'Affaires at Washington on the 12th inst. says:

"The information which reaches America will have acquainted the American government with the extremely critical economic position that has arisen in Europe owing to failure to find any solution for the reparations problem, which daily becomes more acute as the financial and political condition of Germany grows worse."

"There does not appear to be among the European powers that unity of thought which either renders common action feasible or will be successful in finding an early solution. His Majesty's government has during the past nine months made a series of proposals to its Allies for meeting these difficulties, none of which have been accepted. It is therefore a matter of necessity to meet with a measure of acceptance sufficient to bring about common action, not merely without such action, but merely Germany, but Europe appears to be drifting into economic disaster."

CO-OPERATION ESSENTIAL
"In the circumstances, His Majesty's government has for long entertained the belief that the co-operation of the United States government is an essential condition of any real advance toward a settlement. America, by reason of her position and history, is more interested than any of the European powers; at the same time she is directly and vitally concerned with the solution of the European problem, if, for no other reason, because it is involved in the question of the inter-Allied debt."

"When Mr. Hughes made his declaration in December last, both Great Britain and Germany made it clear that they were warmly welcome to the suggestion. And whenever the suggestion has been revived it has met with the hearty approval of His Majesty's government."

"The French government hitherto has taken a different view. This lack of unanimity is, so far as His Majesty's government is aware, the sole reason why the proposal has not been proceeded with."

"His Majesty's government was already engaged in making inquiries to the United States as to the manner in which, in the opinion of the latter, such action, which is the common desideratum, could best be brought about, when a declaration reported to have been made by President Coolidge that the American government would rest on its proposal of December last."

DECLARATION WELCOMED
"The government warmly welcomes this declaration and hopes that it is justified in deducing from it that if the European powers will join in such an inquiry America will render the promised co-operation. His Majesty's government has rightly interpreted the President's statement, and if it may count upon an understanding being given to such a proceeding, it will not hesitate to invite the immediate co-operation of the Allies in Europe. His Majesty's government is prepared to assist in the proposed inquiry by designating a delegate, whether official or unofficial, to participate therein."

"If, on the other hand, it were proposed to hold such an inquiry, although complete unanimity had not been forthcoming at this and might His Majesty's government and the majority of the Allies still hope for American co-operation."

SUGGESTIONS INVITED
"Alternatively, it is proposed that such an inquiry should be entrusted to the Reparations Commission or to a body appointed by it, which would have the advantage that the latter may be willing to participate."

"It is in the firm belief that the American government will render great service to the security and peace of the world that His Majesty's government, speaking in the name of the whole British Empire as represented in the Imperial conference now assembled in London, desires to associate itself with the renewed proposal of the President and will be glad to receive from the American government any suggestion that the latter may be disposed to offer in reply to the suggestions I have ventured to put."

The British charge at Washington telegraphed to Lord Curzon on the 14th inst. that the Secretary of State had handed him a memorandum in reply to the communication which the Secretary of State had made to him in pursuance of instructions contained in Curzon's telegram of the 13th.

The following is the text of the memorandum:

HUGHES MEMORANDUM
"In reply to the communication from His Majesty's Charge d'Affaires on October 13, the Secretary of State desires to express the deep interest of the United States in the economic situation of Europe and its readiness to aid in any practical way to promote occupation and re-establishment of economic stability."

"The government of the United States has viewed with deep concern the lack, as His Majesty's government expresses it, of that unity of thought on the part of the European powers essential to common action. The views of the government of the United States as to the importance of the reparations problem and the relations of the government of the United States to the questions involved were set forth in the statement of the Secretary of State to which His Majesty's government refers, and these views are still held."

"It is observed that His Majesty's government states that Great Britain and Germany made it clear that they were warmly welcome to the suggestion. The memorandum continues: 'In further reply to the communication of His Majesty's government, it may be said that the United States government is not in a position to appoint a member of the reparations commission, inasmuch as such an appointment cannot be made without the consent of Congress.'

"The Secretary of State has no

United States "if for no other reason because the question of inter-Allied debt is involved therein."

NOT UNREASONABLE
The American people are opposed to cancellation, Mr. Hughes states. They are not ready to have Germany's debt to the Allies transferred to the backs of American taxpayers, yet they are willing to consider the circumstances of their debtors and consider any reasonable proposition as to time and terms of payments."

Mr. Hughes adds the timely reminder that the American people are not to be influenced by serious reduction of European armies and something like a European people and States to work together."

Senator Lodge having put to sleep a resolution by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, to permit official American representation on the reparations commission, Mr. Hughes had to tell Lord Curzon such membership was out of the question. "Competent American citizens," he said, "are not to be used as a mere tool for the purpose of a propaganda campaign."

This situation was aggravated by the decision of the government of the United States to strike until the Rote Pagne, the Communist organ, which has been suppressed, is allowed to resume publication. REVOLT GAINS LITTLE
LONDON, Oct. 25.—The separatist movement in the Rhineland, which there now is a tendency to French press to describe as a movement for autonomy, does not seem from advices reaching Paris to have made any real progress today."

Some more significant towns were reported to have proclaimed the republic, which means that a body of the separatists arrived at a city hall and took possession without any attempt having been made to prevent the operation."

At Wiesbaden efforts to recapture buildings held by the separatists met with failure. The government remained closed. The separatists holding public buildings were forced to take measures to stop pillaging."

REPUBLIC PROCLAIMED
(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
DUESSELDORF, Oct. 25.—A republic was proclaimed at Coblenz tonight at 10 o'clock. The separatists hold all the public buildings. It is reported that a strict censorship has been established."

BURGOMASTER OUSTED
(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
COBLENZ, Oct. 25.—The burgomaster, Dr. Russel, was expelled by the French authorities today on a charge of failing to maintain a neutral attitude during the attempt by Rhineland separatists on Tuesday to seize control of the government buildings."

The fate of the Rhineland republic, which Joseph Mathies and the other leaders admit was born prematurely, trembles in the balance. The republic still is opposed vigorously by the Loyalists, who undoubtedly are in the vast majority, but whose impotence under present circumstances daily becomes more apparent."

The struggle to make the republic effective has resulted into local combat, the separatist group being assigned to various communities with the privilege of assuming provisional dictatorial command when they gain control."

The problem of co-ordinating the operation of the various cities now under the supreme dictatorship of Mathies, Dr. Dorian and Wilhelm Kremer, Coblenz is the executive center and Mathies is directing the operations from a little suite of offices which are understood to be connected with various centers by special telephone lines."

WOODS COMING HOME
(BY A. P. MORT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Ambassador Woods reported to the State Department from Tokyo that he expected to reach San Francisco November 15 on the steamer President Cleveland. The Ambassador said he would go from San Francisco to Philadelphia, before coming to Washington.

help the unemployed, most of it through local authorities. The Premier brushed aside for the time all the sweeping plans for imperial preference, as far as they embrace a policy of protection, by declaring the government still was bound by his pledge that there would be no fundamental changes in the fiscal policy. During his address the Premier also sought to drive a decisive nail in the coffin of the rumor that he was flirting with the idea of money inflation."

ASSERTS POLICY
After plunging into the question of Germany, he said: "We have been accused of having no policy. That all depends on what the people mean by the word 'policy.' We have a definite policy as regards debts, reparations and the fulfillment of our obligations to our Allies and the fulfillment of Germany of her obligations."

The statement on the continent knew it, too. But higher than the need of a definite policy in the need of securing common action and carrying that policy into effect."

Dealing with the question of why the government did not follow up its note of August 11 to France, Mr. Baldwin explained that, hard as he had the reply to that note been received when it came obvious that the passive resistance of Germany was breaking down."

SWAYED BY COOLIDGE
"The government had good reason to believe that, on the giving up of passive resistance, negotiations might be resumed on the subject were made, but while awaiting a reply, President Coolidge made his statement in America offering American co-operation, if invited by the Allies, in an Allied conference, or to be represented by American experts on a committee of experts under the auspices of the reparations commission."

"When people speak about our want of policy," continued the Premier, "I think they mean our failure to effect that common action necessary to bring to a successful end the troubles in which Europe today is smothered. We have lost no opportunity of endeavoring to secure that common action, and a series of statements have been made, in all documents that have been published, are represented, despite what our opponents may here or elsewhere, the view of a Cabinet absolutely and entirely united."

PLANE TAKES UP RECORD WEIGHT MORE THAN MILE
(BY A. P. MORT WIRE)
DAYTON (O.), Oct. 25.—A weight-carrying altitude record was established at Wilbur Wright Field today when the Bunting bomber, the world's greatest airplane, rose to an indicated distance of 4360 feet carrying a gross load of 23,575 pounds."

Piloted by Lieut. Harold R. Harris, the huge craft, loaded with 4350 pounds of bombs, 2400 pounds of gasoline and the weight of the three men in the plane totaling 145 pounds, left the earth after a dash of 23,575 pounds and four-tenths seconds. It was in the air one hour, forty-five minutes and thirty seconds before landing. Lieut. Harris declared that a greater altitude could have been reached but the ship was brought to earth because of the fatigue of the flyers."

Senate Committee Looks Into
Teapot Dome Lease

Change from Navy to Interior
Department Quizzed

Reserves Are Being Rapidly
Drained, is Charge

BY A. P. MORT WIRE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Harry
F. Sinclair, who obtained the lease to the Teapot Dome (Wyo.) naval oil reserve, which is being investigated by the Senate Public Land Committee, was summoned today to appear as a witness before the committee. Saturday members of the committee indicated they wished to question Mr.
Sinclair about various points in the contract.

Secretary of the Navy Denby, testifying before the committee today, assumed full responsibility for the transfer of the administration of the three naval oil reserves from his department to the Interior Department. He also announced that the transfer of the oil reserves from his department to the Interior
Department had been completed.

RESERVE DRAINED
Commander I. F. Landis, United States Navy, retired, who was in charge of the two reserves in California, testified that he had not been consulted concerning the transfer of the management of the reserves to the Interior Department. Secretary Fall, soon after assuming charge, discussed with him in San Francisco conditions upon the reserves, he said, adding that he had strongly urged upon the Secretary the drilling of offset wells, which subsequently were reported to be contributing to the draining of the oil on the reserves.
Commander Landis insisted that pected of having murdered Rueckert.

Returning home late at night
Rueckert was confronted by a masked burglar. He refused to throw up his hands and leaped at the intruder. He was shot four times. Although mortally wounded, Rueckert got downstairs, where he fell dead on the porch.

A number of naval officers who were associated with the management of the oil reserves while the Navy Department was in charge of them, will appear before the committee tomorrow. They will be asked to give their views as to the wisdom of the transfer of the reserves to the Interior Department, and as to the soundness of the policy which has been adopted to place the reserves "oil in storage"

Lieut.-Gov. Trapp

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 25.—
Lieut.-Gov. M. E. Trapp was the victor in the fight for the gubernatorial office of Oklahoma today.
The State Supreme Court declaring him acting Governor of the State.
The decision makes permanent a writ of prohibition against Gov.
Walton, restraining him from interfering with Trapp's assumption of the office.
This court decision legalizes a resolution adopted by the State Senate suspending Gov. Walton during his impeachment trial, and nullifies an injunction obtained by the Governor in District Judge
Chamberlain's court, designed to block
Trapp's appointment.
The court argued the matter during the afternoon, and announced its decision after a brief conference late in the day. The vote of the court was five to four.
When notified of the court's action Gov. Walton declared he intended to continue to fight. He would not make a formal statement.

That Holds the Road

The best footing your car can get on rain-swept streets and slippery hillsides is the gripping All-Weather Tread of a Good Year Tire.

The high, thick, sharp-edged blocks of that famous tread hold and hang on with a wedgelike action that prevents sliding or skidding.

This sure-footed traction means the highest factor of safety in motoring.

It is also a factor for economy of fuel and efficiency of engine performance, because on this slipless tread the car goes forward full distance at every turn of the motor is saved from the rubbing spinning or stalling.

Advantages of a powerfully treaded tire in the Good Year Cord Tire and All-Weather Tread make the most effective performance over the greatest variety of road conditions.

Service Station Dealers we sell the new Good Year Cord Tire and All-Weather Tread and back it with the standard Good Year Service.

TRIO OF GAMES FOR PREP FANS

only after a terrible fight. The Presidents were a better team when they met Hollywood, so Hollywood is at least one touchdown stronger than Lincoln, who beat Franklin 13 to 7. Los Angeles trimmed the Kitties 13 to 6. The Panthers are merely one score stronger than Lincoln, however, as Maletts had his second stringers in when Franklin scored. On the other hand, Franklin played against L. A. and not against Lincoln. It would therefore seem that Hollywood and L. A. are each a touchdown better than Lincoln, if you care anything about figures, which are about as reliable for judging out football games as a mad with one limb in a three-legged race. If the Panthers win, it will be because White and Kirkpatrick have a better coach than the Romans have plenty of the old drive.

It's hard to tell what will occur at Washington Park. Last year Mechanics were impressive because of their heavy line. Some of the best is about this season, but in its place the Poly supporters claim a fast, hard hitting backfield. Louie Brennan, Derr and Christensen are Brennan's best bets at carrying the ball. The last named chap does the punting and from all reports should outkick the Rallapiters. Maletts has rather a nifty, easy running backfield of his own and the boys will be hard to stop with a victory under the belt. Belcher and Nolan are two very good punters, and the latter is a bear at running back kicks. If he has completely recovered from his injury in the Franklin game he should be the star of the day for the Rallapiters. Spectators are asked to refrain from bringing any loud noise making instruments to the game, such as TNT bombs or tin whistles. Football is becoming refined.

ANOTHER COAL STRIKE FEARED

Bituminous Field This Time, Observers Predict

Agreement of 1922 Lapses at End of March

Suspension of Operations Next Day Likely

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Taking a long look ahead, well informed observers say that another coal strike is scheduled for next spring, this time in the bituminous field. The agreement which ended the strike of 1922 ends March 31, and a suspension of mining operations will take place the following day unless a new agreement shall have been negotiated in the meanwhile. Present prospects, as reflected in the attitude of the officials of the miner's union and the organization of the operators, do not encourage a belief that a new agreement will be reached. Both sides are said to be preparing for a fight that will be the supreme test of their respective strength.

The preliminary skirmish, which takes the form of a propaganda campaign, is already under way. Both miners and operators are hurling charges and counter-charges back and forth in an effort to sway popular sentiment before actual hostilities open up.

CHARGES SWAPPED

Spokesmen for the United Mine Workers charge that the nonunion operators have control of the National Coal Association and are doing everything in their power to precipitate a strike with a two-fold object in view: first, to break up and destroy the union, and, second, to control the market during the strike period and sell their coal at profiteering prices such as were charged during the 1922 strike.

The operators charge that the miners, in their efforts to unionize all the miners, are seeking to get a strangle hold on the entire industry, enforce outrageous wage demands and the extension of the check-off system, and inflict an unwarranted advance in coal prices upon the consumer.

The miners say the operators are trying to compel arbitration by wage fixing, to which the union cannot agree and survive. The operators say that the wage demands of the union are so unreasonable that an agreement can never be reached by negotiation and there must be arbitration or there can never be an adjustment of differences. The operators add that the miners must know that their demands are indefensible, otherwise they would not decline to arbitrate, and to this the miners retort that they always get the worst of it in an arbitration.

That the insistence of the operators upon arbitration is only a subterfuge to win the sympathy of the uninformed and unthinking public.

CONGRESS MAY ACT

In this situation it is barely possible that Congress may get busy early in the approaching session and take some action that will prevent another disastrous interruption of the nation's basic fuel supply. There are two reasons for the belief that emergency action by Congress is remote. The first is that the coming session immediately precedes a Presidential campaign and the politicians in Congress will be busy about doing anything that might have a pronounced effect upon the 1924 election. Any action that might be taken would undoubtedly provoke antagonism, and in such circumstances the politician's policy is invariably to do nothing. The second reason is that in taking up the question of what is to be done about the coal industry Congress will have before it the voluminous reports and recommendations of the Coal Commission, which concluded its investigation on September 22.

Manifestly Congress will have other important matters to dispose of this winter. The situation in the transportation industry is almost equally critical. With the farmers clamoring for lower freight rates, railroad labor preparing to stage a fight for increased wages, and the railroad owners resisting the consolidation program, and a drive in sight for government ownership of the roads, it is obvious that Congress has something to think about besides coal.

Vanderbilt Kin Gives Up Job of Driving Taxi

(BY A. P. HUGHES WIRE)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Francis Ormand French, cousin of William H. Vanderbilt, who caused a stir among the socially mighty a fortnight ago by accepting a position as a taxi cab chauffeur, has announced that he intended to rebuild by manual toil a fortune lost in Wall Street, kept his job five days, worked three of them, earned $17 in wages and something less in tips and then failed to report again for work, an official of the taxi-cab company announced today.

He tried to make an arrangement with the company to "do stunts" for publicity purposes, the official said, declaring that his driving for the company was worth thousands of dollars to it in advertising. It was insisted that he stick to straight driving and French walked out and never returned.

INELIGIBLE ALIENS FLEW BY LEGION

(BY A. P. HUGHES WIRE)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Committee to carry on a campaign for immediate enactment of legislation excluding all aliens ineligible to citizenship were named today, following a conference yesterday at headquarters here of the American Legion.

Other organizations represented were the State Federation of Labor, the State Grange, and the Native Sons of the Golden West. Members of the California Congressional delegation also attended. It was pointed out that the Legion and labor organizations at their national conventions recently had urged Congress to pass such legislation.

The Inspiring Atmosphere of Santa Ana's Graceful Homes

WE NOTICE that practically every newcomer to Santa Ana starts right out with the same objective: To discover what it is in Santa Ana homes that assures "this is home," and acquire some of it for himself! He soon finds out that Santa Ana homes are inspired—that they are individual expressions of joy and happiness in a perfect climate and prosperous community. With over 5000 artistic homes in Santa Ana, a population of 28,000, it is evident that over 90% of the people own their own homes. Over 700 permits for new homes have been taken out so far this year.

The love of city, the natural result of love of home, has found expression in external beauty—with the city's plans providing large, deep lots, the lawns and landscapes are designed with all the care of an artist's canvas. Paving petitions are constantly before the Council—over 50 miles in Santa Ana's residential sections are beautifully paved. Avenues are lined with cypress, pepper, palms and rare tropical trees. Ornamental lights illuminate main boulevards.

The strength of Santa Ana lies in its home life—the unequalled educational advantages for its children, with a Junior College providing two years of university work—wholesome, healthy recreational activities in the city, at the seashore, or in the mountains close by. Santa Ana's homes are not made by confidential recipes—but are INDIVIDUAL expressions of a home-owning and home-loving population that sets about to pursue happiness in its own way—and succeeds!

Share Santa Ana with us! We welcome new home-makers and invite them to assist us in making a Great Santa Ana

CHINESE COMPLETE TRAIN GUARD PLAN

PEKING, Oct. 25.—The Chinese government's plan for a railway guard corps to protect passenger trains from bandit attacks has just been completed. The plan provides for joint direction of the corps by Chinese and foreign officers and so closely agrees with the proposal put forward by the foreign diplomats after the Lin-cheng attack of last May that it is considered likely the foreign diplomats will defer submitting their plan until it can be seen what results are obtained from the Chinese plan.

It is reported that Lieut.-Gen. J. W. N. Munthe, a Norwegian, long identified with Chinese military affairs and organizer of the Chinese Legation Guard Corps, has been selected as the foreign co-director of the corps and that Gen. Tang Chi-Li will be his Chinese colleague. The bureau of which the directors will have charge will be under the Ministry of Communications.

FRECKLES

Girls! Make Harmless Lemon Cream to bleach away Tan, Freckles

Mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful freckle and tan cream, and complexion beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon cream into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes naturally bleach right out and how youthfully clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes.—[Advertisement]

The Life of a Home

A healthy, happy, contented wife is the life and joy of the home and the greatest inspiration a man can have, yet how many homes in America are blighted by the ill-health and sufferings of the wife and mother. It may be backache, headaches, the tortures of a displacement or some other ailment peculiar to her sex, which makes her irritable, despondent, and her whole life a burden. Every woman in this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs to restore her to health and happiness, for statistics prove that it benefits 93 out of every 100 women who try it.—[Advertisement]

How Fat Actress Was Made Slim

Many state people now depend entirely upon Marmola Prescription Tablets for reducing and controlling fat. One clever actress tells that she reduced steadily and easily by using this new form of the famous Marmola Prescription Tablets several times a year, keeps her weight just right. All good druggists sell Marmola Prescription Tablets at one dollar for a case, or if you prefer you can secure them direct from the Marmola Co., 4111 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. If you have not tried them so far, they are harmless and effective.—[Advertisement]

HERMOSA BEACH

California

"The Aristocrat of Beaches"

"Why I Located My Plant In Hermosa Beach"—

"WE NEEDED a Pacific Coast factory to supply more economically the growing demands for our products in the Southwest. Any one of a dozen Southern California cities would have served most of our needs. We wanted, if possible, to find the community that would meet all of our requirements.

"I came out here two years ago to look over the ground. I visited scores of sites in half a dozen cities. In one, the labor situation was unfavorable; in another, track-age facilities were limited; in a third, acreage was priced too highly; another offered no housing facilities or community life for employees we were bringing from our plants in Kansas.

"One of my local dealers suggested Hermosa Beach, where he had spent the summer. I found at Hermosa Beach exactly what I was looking for. There is acreage available here at very favorable prices. Our plant is served by two railroads and a network of improved boulevards. Ten miles away, less than twenty-five minutes distant over broad boulevards is Los Angeles Harbor through which some of our raw materials and many of our products pass. With 20,000 people living within a three-mile radius, the labor supply is always adequate. The city of Hermosa Beach provides abundant housing and supply facilities for our employees.

"But most important of all Hermosa Beach is a community in which our employees are happy, contented, healthy and efficient. Since establishing this plant here nearly two years ago I have myself yielded to the lure of California and have brought my family to Hermosa Beach. This business is prospering tremendously and we are delighted with the city, its advantages and its future."

WILSON LEAGUE IDEA PUBLISHED

Neutrality for Philippines
as President's Plan

Opinions on Other Unsolved
Problems Presented

World War Declared Results of Trade Jealousy

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Woodrow Wilson's opinions on many problems still unsolved are revived in a book published under the title of "Woodrow Wilson's Case for the League of Nations." The work is a compilation by Hamilton Folsy of speeches and public documents by the former President. Discussing the World War, Wilson says that it sprang from commercial jealousies. The book is published by the Princeton University Press, and, according to a letter from Wilson, which forms a preface, the work has his approval.

"I confidently hope that the book will be of service to all who wish to understand the League of Nations, and the vital issues which arise out of the attitude of the United States toward the League," says Mr. Wilson.

ISLANDS DISCLOSED
In a chapter on the League Wilson discusses the Philippines, which, he thinks, constitute a problem that would have been simplified if the United States had entered the League.

"We have a problem ahead of us that ought to interest us in this connection," says Wilson. "We have promised the people of the Philippines that we will set them free and it has been one of our perplexities how we should make them safe after we have set them free. Before this conference at Paris the only thing that could be suggested was that we should get a common guaranty from all the nations of the world that the Philippines shall be regarded as neutral, just as Belgium was once regarded as neutral, and that they should guarantee her inviolability because it was certainly to be expected that she would not be powerful enough to take care of herself against those who might wish to commit aggressions against her."

TO MOVE OBSTACLE
"Under this arrangement," continues Mr. Wilson, referring to the plan for the United States to enter the League, "it will be safe from the outset. They will become members of the League of Nations and every great nation in the world will be pledged to respect and preserve against external aggression from any quarter the territorial integrity and political independence of the Philippines."
"It simplifies one of the most perplexing problems that have faced the American public."

SYNDOS TO MEET HERE
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MIAMI (AP), Oct. 25.—On July 21, next at Glendale, Cal., will be a joint session of the Presbyterians synods of California and Arizona. The suggestion came from the Arizona synod, which has held its annual session here. Authorization has been asked for the formation of a new presbytery embracing the Central Arizona churches of the Superior, Globe and Miami sections.

ONLY 13 MILES TO MARCELL
COUNTRY CLOSE LIVES ARE, Pasadena.

It is answered him.
"Yes. My father has just asked Robert to come with us—by inference, that is. Where are you going?"

The adroit use of her lover's Christian name guided his lordship to sudden heat.
"Indeed!" he snarled. "Sir Arthur Deane has evidently decided to take a good many things during the last hour."
"Yes," was the shipowner's quiet reply. "I have decided that my daughter's happiness should be the chief consideration of my remaining years. All else must give way to it."

The Earl's swarthy face grew sallow with fury. His eyes blazed and there was a tense vibration in his voice as he said:
"Then I must congratulate you, Miss Deane. You are faced to end adventures. Having escaped from the melodramatic perils of Rainbow Island you are destined to experience another variety of shipwreck here."

He left them. Not a word had Robert spoken throughout the unexpected scene. His heart was throbbing with a tremendous joy and his lordship's sneers were lost on him. But he could not fail to note the malignant purpose of the parting sentence.
In his quietly masterful way he placed his hand on the baronet's shoulder.

"What did Lord Ventnor mean?"

It was a polite but decided rebuff. In no way tended to sweeten Lord Ventnor's temper, which was further exasperated by Robert's disapproving looking time, with its accumulation of doleful.
The boat swung off into the life-way. Her progress shoreward was watched by a small knot of people, mostly loungers and coolies. Among them, however, were persons who had driven rapidly to the landing place when the arrival of the ship was reported. One bore all the distinguishing marks of the army officer of high rank, but the other was unmistakably a girl. Only a single Piccadilly could have purchased his wondrous sola topi, or pith helmet—with its imitation pug-nose fringed and puckered—and no taller who ever carried his goatee through the Exile's Gate would have fashioned his expensive garments. But the old gentleman made no pretense that he could "hear the East a-mill!"
He swore impartially at the climate, the place, and its inhabitants. At this instant he was in a state of wild excitement. He was very tall, very stout, exceedingly red-faced. Any budding medico who understood the premonitions enjoyed by a man in a perception, would have diagnosed him as a first-rate subject.

Producing a tremendous telescope, he vainly endeavored to balance it on the shoulder of a native servant.
"Can't you stand still, you blithering idiot!" he shouted, after futile attempts to focus the advancing boat, "or shall I steady you by a clout over the ear?"

His companion, the army man, was looking through a pair of field glasses.

"By Jove!" he cried, "I can see Sir Arthur Deane, and a girl who looks like his daughter. There's that infernal scamp, Ventnor, too."

The big man brushed the servant out of his way, and brandished the telescope as though it were a bludgeon.

"The dirty beggar! He drove my lad to misery and death, yet he has come back safe and sound. Wait till I meet him. I'll—"

New, Anstruther! Remember your promise. I will deal with Lord Ventnor. My vengeance has first claim. What! By the jumping Jeeves, I do believe it. It is Anstruther! Your nephew is sitting next to the girl!"

The telescope fell on the steps with a crash. The giant's rubicund face suddenly blanched. He leaned on his friend for support.

"You are not mistaken," he almost whispered. "Look again for God's sake, man. Make sure before you speak. Tell me! Tell me!"

"Calm yourself, Anstruther. It is Robert, as sure as I'm alive. Don't you think I knew him, my poor disgraced friend, whom I like all the rest, cast off in his hour of trouble? But I had some excuse. There! There! I didn't mean that old fellow, Robert himself will be the last man to blame either of us. Who could have suspected that two people—one of them, God help me! my wife—would connect such a halfling plot!"

The boat "g"ed gracefully alongside the steps of the quay, and Playdon sprang ashore to help Iris to alight. What happened immediately afterward can best be told in his own words, as he recalled the story to an appreciative audience in the wardrobe.

"We had just landed," he said, "and some of the crew were pushing the coolies out of the way, when two men jumped down the steps, and a most fendish row sprang up. That is, there was no dispute or wrangling, but one chap, who, it turned out, was Col. Costobell, grabbed Ventnor by the shirt front, and threatened to smash his face in if he didn't listen to them and there to what he had to say. I really thought about interfering, until I heard Col. Costobell's opening words. After that I would gladly have seen the beggar chucked into the harbor. We never like him, did we?"

"Ask no questions, Pompey, but go ahead with the yarn," growled the first lieutenant.

"Well, it seems that Mrs. Costobell is dead. She got enticed a week after the Orient sailed, and was a gone in four days. Before she died she owned up."

He paused, with a base eye to effect. Not a man moved a muscle.

"All right," he cried, "I will make no more false starts. Mrs. Costobell begged her husband's forgiveness for her treatment of him, and confessed that she and Lord Ventnor planned the affair for which Anstruther was tried by court-martial. It must have been a beautiful business, for Costobell was sweating with rage, though his words were joy-croch. And you ought to have seen Ventnor's face when he heard of the deposition, sworn to and signed by Mrs. Costobell and by several Chinese servants whom he bribed to give false evidence. He promised to marry Mrs. Costobell, he was handed over, in any event, to bring about a divorce when the Hong Kong affair had blown over. Then she learnt that he was after Miss Iris, and there is no doubt he fury helped on the fever. Costobell said that, for his wife's sake, he would have kept the wretched thing secret, but he was compelled to reveal Anstruther's name, especially as he came across the other old Johnnie—"

"Pompey, you are incoherent with excitement. Who is the other old Johnnie?" asked the first lieutenant.

"Didn't I tell you? Why, Anstruther's uncle, of course, a heavy old swell with just a touch of Yorkshire in his tongue. I gathered that he dignified his nephew when the news of the court-martial reached him. Then he repented, and cabled to him. Getting no news, he came East to look for him. He met Costobell the day after the lady died, and the two swore—the stout uncle can swear a treat—anyhow, they vowed to be sworn and bent on and to clear Anstruther's character, living or dead. Poor old chap, cried like a baby when he asked the youngster to forgive him. It was quite touching. I can tell you."

Playdon affected to search for his pocket handkerchief.
"Do tell us, or it will be worse for you," cried his aunt.

"Give me time, air, a drink! What you fellows want is a phonograph. Let me see. Well, Costobell shook Ventnor off at last, with the final observation that Anstruther's court-martial has been quashed. The most heathen of general orders will reinstate him in the regiment, and it rests with him to decide whether or not a criminal warrant shall be issued against his lordship for conspiracy. Do you fellows know what conspiracy—"

"You cur! What does Miss Deane do?"
"Clung to Anstruther like a wasp and a kid kissed every body all round when Ventnor got away. Well—hands off, I mean. My father, Anstruther and the stout uncle. Unfortunately I was not on in that scene. But, for some reason, they all nearly wrung my arms off, and the men were so excited that they gave the party a rousing cheer as their rich-china's bunch. Will no Christian gentleman get me a drink?"

The next commotion arose in the hotel when Sir Arthur Deane seized the first opportunity to explain the predicament in which his company found him, and the blow which Lord Ventnor yet had it in his power to deal.

Mr. William Anstruther was an interested auditor. Robert would have spoken, but his uncle restrained him.

"Leave this to me, lad," he exclaimed. "When I was coming here in the Sirdar there was a lot of talk about Sir Arthur's scheme, and there should not be much difficulty in raising all the brass required, if half what I heard he tried. But you, Anstruther, and tell us all about it."

The shipowner required no second bidding. With the skill for which he was noted, he described his operations in detail, telling how every farthing of the first installments of the two great loans was paid up, how the earnings of his fleet would quickly overtake the loss of the three ships, and how, in six months' time, the leading financial houses of London, Paris and New York would be paying him more money than he would need.

To a shrewd man of business the project could not fail to commend itself, and the Yorkshire squire, though a trifle obstinate in temper, was singularly clear-headed in other respects. He brought his great fat down on the table with a smack.

"Send a cable to your company, Sir Arthur," he cried, "and tell them that your prospective son-in-law will provide the £10,000 you require. I will see that his draft is honored. You can add, if you like, that another ten will be ready if wanted when this lot is spent. I did my lad one day—"

"I daresay," said Iris's father enthusiastically. "The unalloyed capital he is taking up will be worth four times its face value in two years."

"All the more reason to make his holding twenty instead of ten," roared the Yorkshireman. "But look here. You talk about dropping proceedings against that precious earl when I saw today. Why not tell him not to try any funny tricks until Robert's money is safely lodged to your account? We have him in our power. Dash it all, let us use him a bit."

Even Iris laughed at this naive suggestion. It was delightful to think that their arch enemy was actually helping the baronet's affairs at that very moment, and would continue to do so until he was fatter and as big as no further value. Although Ventnor himself had carefully avoided any formal commitment, the diagrams, awaiting the shipowner at Singapore showed that confidence had already been reposed in the uncontradicted use of his lordship's name.

Robert at last obtained a hearing.

"You two are quietly assuming the attitude of the financial magnates of this gathering," he said. "I must admit that you have managed things very well between you, and I do not propose for one moment to interfere with your arrangements. Nevertheless, Iris and I are really the chief moneyed persons present. You spoke of financial houses in England and on the Continent backing up your loans six months hence, Sir Arthur. You need not go to them. We will be your bankers."

ILL WIND BLOWS ULTIMATE GOOD

Great Activity in Japan to Come Out of Disaster

Rebuilding Operations Keep Labor Fully Employed

Imports Increase Financial Conditions Satisfactorily

It is estimated in Tokyo that the rebuilding of the devastated area of Japan will be extended over a period of from five to seven years and that the full employment of labor during that period will cause greatly increased activity throughout the empire, says a cable received by the far eastern division of the Department of Commerce from the commercial attaché at Tokyo.

This activity will be reflected not only in the foreign purchase of building and construction materials for the rebuilding of the stricken cities, but in increased purchasing power of the masses at large, and causing the imports of all necessities and so-called luxuries to show increases.

Plans and specifications for the rebuilding of the affected area are being drawn up at present by the capital restoration board, and it is expected that they will be completed in time to be submitted to the Diet when it convenes on November 14.

Meanwhile, no permanent construction is permitted, and the temporary buildings that are springing up like mushrooms throughout the stricken area give the appearance of our Mid-West boom-town belt.

The shipbuilding and electrical industries were seriously damaged by the earthquake and the demand for electrical equipment is heavy at present. It is stated that the government will probably make direct purchases of lumber and steel products in the United States.

Steel-framed reinforced concrete buildings are generally conceded to be the best suited for business buildings in Japan, and a heavy demand for structural steel and other building materials is anticipated.

Demand for machinery to replace that destroyed in factories is heavy, and the demand for sawmill equipment is especially active. Many inquiries are being received regarding portable houses and heavy purchases of motor cars and trucks are reported.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

Following the lifting of the moratorium financial conditions have been generally satisfactory although the question of fire insurance is still unsettled. The fire insurance companies contend that without government aid they will be unable to pay more than 4 per cent of the losses covered by policies amounting to $1,000,000,000.

With government assistance the industrial bank is aiding the rehabilitation of factories while the Hypothec Bank is assisting other establishments through mortgage loans. The Yokohama Specie Bank is placing credits against 25 per cent cash security. It has been decided by the government to compensate the bank of Japan for all losses involved in rediscounting bills and the time of rediscounting has been extended to two years.

During the week ended October 14, ready money was very plentiful. Bankers had more money than could be disposed of and call money consequently showed a downward tendency. The money market is reported to be quiet but firm and any but influential firms are finding it difficult to negotiate loans. Large American and Japanese firms are having no difficulty in securing their regular line of credit. The usual discount rate is one-eighth of 1 per cent. Foreign exchange remains steady and it is probable that specie held abroad will be used if any weakness develops.

INCREASED PRODUCTION

The production of cotton yarn during September amounted to 14,600 bales, compared with 13,200 bales during July of this year. It is reported that the cotton yarn industry as a whole has been benefited by the earthquake since it tended to eliminate the surplus spindles and cut down surplus stocks. The total stocks of raw cotton at Osaka and Kobe on September 13 amounted to 250,000 bales, of which 34,000 bales were American cotton. This compares very favorably with the 200,000 bales of raw cotton on hand at the ports of Kobe, Osaka and Yokohama at the end of July considering the decrease in spindleage.

Stocks of cotton yarn on hand at the end of September amounted to 50,000 bales.

As a result of the heavy demand for shipping in transporting reconstruction materials charter rates have advanced considerably especially on lumber shipments. Yokohama is now handling import and export cargo in considerable quantities and it is expected that it will resume its importance as a shipping port. The docks and warehouses at Kobe are reported to be somewhat congested as a result of cargoes being diverted there from Yokohama. Wages are advancing in anticipation of heavy demands for labor during the reconstruction period.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Living Costs Go Up in Los Angeles; Periscope View of Business; Record Cotton Price

BY CHAPIN HALL

Not very many years ago it was the pride of the city of Los Angeles that it cost less to live in this city than anywhere else in the country.

Large enough to be given a place in the table of statistics, but our leadership in this particular regard seems to have been eclipsed, temporarily at least.

Concentration of producing interest closer harmony in jobbing, and, above all, a marvelous expansion in demand without compensatory increase in supply has sent Los Angeles spinning down the scale.

Thousands of acres of productive land lying close to the city's channels of distribution have given way to neatly paved streets, lined with miles of new homes. Rutas and celery patches have sprouted baby carriages and infant collectors; orange groves and walnut orchards are now open to the public.

While the garden truck has been shown farther and farther back toward the hinterland. In the meantime the village has grown from a self-sustaining community of 100,000 to a great metropolis of 1,000,000, calling for vast quantities of the necessities of life. All of these reasons, in addition to the natural increase which affected the entire country, and which followed the ending of the war.

According to the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics the increase in the cost of living in September, 1923, as compared with December, 1922, in Los Angeles, was 77.1 per cent, which compares with an increase in the living costs for the entire country of 72.1 per cent for the average for the year 1922.

Other Pacific Coast cities, less affected by the growth in population and extension of boundaries, show a more moderate increase. In Seattle, 65.4 per cent in San Francisco, and 56.4 per cent in Portland.

IN THE MARKET

The market this week has not established any new records so far as volume is concerned. The turnover has been steady and largely professional. Locally there has been an inclination to play a waiting game, and in some quarters a tendency toward deferred action and ultra conservatism has manifested itself. The short interest has not been altogether easy and traders are a bit jumpy.

It is agreed, however, that the market is resting on a firm foundation and that many classes of stock are down to lower figures than were actually reached by conditions. There is no reason to anticipate a sudden or radical change, but the outlook in the opinion of the experts is growing brighter. The highly speculative oil stocks are especially active.

Some restlessness, but the trend, such as it is, shows an upward tendency.

One current reviewer for a big New York house says that while general business appears well sustained as fall activity develops, the market is resting on a firm foundation and that many classes of stock are down to lower figures than were actually reached by conditions.

DAILY MARKET LETTER OF THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—California lemons showed a sharp decline, being fully 50 cents a box lower. There were six cars sold at a range of from $4.15 to $4.25 per box. Florida grapefruit sold at $1.25 to $1.45. Porto Rico grapefruit sold at 50 cents to 55 cents per box. Porto Rico oranges ranged 45 cents to 50 cents.

Other sales at auction included 600 boxes of Malibu lemons ex-S. S. Columbia at $2.75 per box, 430 boxes of Marzocco at 10 to 11 1/2 cents per pound and 150 boxes of Marzocco at 9 to 10 1/2 cents per pound.

Canasta melons met with an active inquiry the market holding firm.

DRIED FRUIT
Demand for dried fruits continued steady. Some inquiry for California raisins for coast shipment was reported and a transaction involving London layers at $1.90 per twenty-pound box was reported, but through during the day. Interest in sulphur blackberries was also noted, one independent quoted fancy at 13 cents.

California prunes met with a quiet call. There was an entire absence of speculation and distributors are buying only for their immediate requirements. The market here from association headquarters at San Jose indicate that the percentage of larger sizes is grading out smaller than early estimates indicated.

Dried apricots showed a steady tone both on the coast and on the spot position.

CANNED FOODS
The Seacrest Canning Company, leaders in sardine canning, announced that they are in position to accept orders for deferred shipments on sardines. They withdrew from sardines in tomato sauce and announced that all additional business is subject to confirmation and if packed, and also subject to shipment of all prior orders.

Southern tomatoes have eased off on both coast and three although no general decline in prices has taken place. Canneries have been showing a little more willingness to let go the two small sizes and prices 2 1/2 to 3 cents under the quoted market. Prices on three and tens continue steady to firm.

SUGAR
Under good general demand in late dealings, sugar futures rallied substantially, the feature being a jump in December to 4 1/2 cents after it had reached a low of 4 1/4 cents. The list opened unchanged to points in the forenoon, when March reached 3 1/2 and May to 4. In the early afternoon the list steadied a trifle when it became known that holders of full duty sugar had strengthened their views slightly.

The expected drop in refined sugar, amounting to roughly 40 points on the part of a majority of refiners, was announced today, making the general market 3 1/2 cents a pound. There was no further weakening of the views of holders of Cuban sugar, notwithstanding that the National secured one small lot of 8000 bags of Cuban raw due tomorrow at 1 1/4 cents, cost and freight, as well as some 2500 tons of Peru sugar for the second half of November shipments at 1 1/4 and c.i.f. Beet sugars were credited with having gotten as far east as Harbourside, Pa. In some parts of the West they were being offered as low as 8 cents it was reported. There was a report of a decline of 10 to 15 in British refined sugar today.

COFFEE
The coffee market appeared to be sensitive to small orders either way. It was weak at the start at a decline of 1 to 7 points reflecting the lower Brazilian market. Small buying orders appeared sufficient to bring any substantial improvement in late dealings. December touched 9.25, reacting to 9.28 and 9.32 while March touched 8.55 only to react to 8.53. Sales were estimated at some 21,500 bags.

RICE
It has been a quiet week in rice so far. Foreign markets steady.

TEA
The congo tea market appears to be giving a better account of itself. There were inquiries here representing fairly large blocks for European account. India and Ceylon teas showed little change. All grades of Indian teas are firm.

BUTTER
The temper of the butter market is much firmer than the preceding day. Call sales were 12 1/2 tubs of extras at 48c; 100 tubs seller November at 47 1/2 cents and 100 tubs seller October at 46 cents.

EGGS
It seems to be a seller's market on eggs so far this week, especially so when daily advances were noted. Values were further jumped on browns. There has been good demand for white eggs and fall outside prices both on near-by and California.

Spot storage eggs were quiet but there was active trading in futures for December delivery. 55 cars changing hands at 21 cents a dozen.

COPPER
The copper market was completely demoralized today when prices broke to new low levels since May of last year when the other break was registered in London. Electrolytic copper dropped to 13 1/2 cents and closed with quotable range of from 12 3/4 to 13 1/2 cents delivered. London cables standard spot de-

BEANS AND PEAS
Holders of new crop Michigan pea beans are not satisfied with the market. Buyers have been shy in taking quantities. Beans are firm but the demand during the last two days was only fair. Further offerings are at 8 3/4 cents.

LEAD
Lead was unchanged at 6 1/2 cents a pound New York and stronger at 6 1/2 cents St. Louis. London spot showed a gain of 1/2 at 125, 10s and futures an increase of 1 1/2 at 127, 15s 6d.

ZINC
Zinc advanced 7 points to 6.20 cents a pound St. Louis. The London market dropped 5 with spot closing at 43s, 10s and futures at 42s, 10s.

TIN
Another advance was registered in tin while virtually all deliveries and positions of tin and tin alloys shipments closed at 41 7/8 cents. Spot sold at 42 1/2 cents a pound. London cables at 42, 10s and futures at 42, 10s.

PETROLEUM
Local petroleum trade conditions are still unsettled and further price cutting in gasoline and possibly fuel oil is expected. Lubricants are also very easy and can be shaded on round oil trading which is little except for routine requirements.

BONDS
Bonds were unusually active in a session marked by considerable selling pressure which at times engulfed most of the list. The exchange rate of the dollar against the pound was 132 to 134 in a fair round of business. A new low for sterling and other foreign bonds was reached. The market for U. S. bonds was steady, almost daily to report of a new Mexican loan.

BUSINESS NEWS
COKE CREDITORS
Reclamation claimants' securities recovered in the bankruptcy of A. W. Coote, stock broker, may be filed by creditors up to November 20, reports Parker, referee in bankruptcy, today. Hearings of all claims presented under the order will be held on November 20. The bankruptcy was obtained by W. H. Moore, Jr., trustee appointed by the court. He stated that a substantial portion of the creditors may be able to establish claims to the securities held in Coote's safety deposit boxes.

EDISON BONDS
Underwriters of the $11,500,000 Southern California Edison 6 per cent refunding mortgage bonds offered yesterday at 98 1/2 and interest to yield over 6 1/2 per cent reported early in the day that the bonds were meeting with a demand both in the East and this State. The syndicate is composed of Harris Trust & Savings Bank, First Securities Company, Blythe, Witter & Securities Company, E. H. Rollins & Sons, Bond & Goodwin & Tucker, and the Mercantile Securities Company of California.

PERSONAL MENTION
A. A. Reilly, formerly a broker in Wall Street for twenty-two years, has opened an office in the Hibbard Building and will transact a general brokerage business. Mr. Reilly will handle the financing for the H. Tyree Chemical Company, manufacturing gas powder and toilet articles, and owning its own oil mine near San Bernardino.

AMERICAN COTTONSEED
REPORTS BIG DEFICIT
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The American Cottonseed Oil Company reported a deficit of $5,717,000 for its fiscal year ending September 30, according to the corporation's annual report. The deficit was due to a combination of factors, including a decline in the price of cottonseed oil and a decline in the price of cottonseed meal.

Take no chances with tender, bleeding gums.

They are Nature's warning of Pylorrhea's coming, and Pylorrhea strikes four persons out of every five past forty, and thousands younger, too.

After having your teeth and gums inspected by your dentist, brush your teeth with Forhan's For the Gums. It will prevent Pylorrhea or check its course provided it is used consistently and used in time.

Forhan's For the Gums is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S. Used as a dentifrice, it will keep your teeth white and clean and your gums firm and healthy. It is pleasant to the taste. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

Editor Here Tells of Great Industrial Growth

Country Faces Splendid
Era of Prosperity

Opportunity There for Investments

The republic of Brazil is undergoing an era of development unprecedented in its history and is now leading all the countries of South America in prosperity and progress, according to John H. Harbo, superintendent of the city railway system of Rio de Janeiro, who is a guest at the Alhambra Hotel.

Harbo, who is an American, has lived in Brazil for twelve years and is now in this country on a vacation. The tramway system in the Brazilian city is operated by foreign companies, he said, the principal contractors being English and American. The same public service corporations own and control the light, water and telephone systems of the city.

INDUSTRY ON INCREASE
"I should say that the industries of Brazil have increased 80 per cent in the last few years," said Harbo. "This refers to manufacturing of all kinds and particularly the different lines of agricultural activity. The farmers are greatly extending their operations, using great encroachments on the forest every year, clearing the land and planting it to coffee, sugar, tobacco and other products. The growth in production in Brazil is phenomenal."

Harbo was enthusiastic in his praise of the beauty of the Brazilian capital. "I believe it is the most beautiful city in the world," he declared. "With its superb bay in the foreground, its modern buildings and its beautiful city in the background, it is a gem."

A "grown-up" treat
for the children's party

Fiestas and children are good friends. Appreciation? You'll see it flashed in youngsters' faces when you open a "really-true" Fiesta package to witness the fun of their make-believe party.

Fiestas are delicious wafer-confections—a joy without harm for little folks as well as big. Discover for yourself how light and crisp is the outer papery—how meltingly soft the inner treat.

Your grocer's stock of Fiestas is always fresh, for Fiestas are baked on the Pacific Coast. Do you prefer Fiestas in convenient packages, or jumbo Fiestas in economical bulk? Your grocer has both.

KELLOGG-SPEAR WEDDING EVENT OF WIDE INTEREST

Couple Prominent in Social Life of Southern California

Left to right, Dorothy Welborn, Georgiana Pales, Catherine Wigmore, Mrs. Henri de Roule, Emerson Spear, Mrs. Emerson Spear, Kellogg, Albin Spear, Elizabeth Taylor, Hortense McLaughlin, Florence McGarry.

BY CORA YOUNG

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jefferson Davis (Beatrice Maud Merrill), whose marriage took place in August at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Washington Merrill of Berkeley, are now in London. They are calling this week for China and Japan and expect to reach California next February.

Bridge Luncheon
The California Club was the setting for the smart luncheon with which Mrs. Jack R. Baker entertained a group of friends this week. Orange and black shaded lights, with pagen images, suggested Halloween and made striking decorations for the luncheon table.

Wedding Party
Mr. and Mrs. William Neidort will entertain with a wedding party for fifty guests at the Ambassador Coconut Grove next Tuesday evening at the Hollywood Viceroy dress ball there. In addition to the Halloween decorations some specially appropriate favors will adorn the Neidort table.

Dinner Precedes Ball
Mr. and Mrs. Woods Woolwine will entertain with dinner party preceding the benefit ball at the Biltmore on the evening of November 2. Their guests are to be Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Woolwine, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Woolwine, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Banks, Mrs. R. K. Smith of New York and Mr. James Woolwine. Mrs. Smith will be Mrs. Woolwine's house guest during the month of November.

In Town for Winter
Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Tally, who have been at the Tally country place for the last year are in town for the winter. They will occupy the home of Mr. Tally's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Tally, on Leeward avenue during their absence in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Tally are entertaining with a dinner party next Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Gwendolyn Longyear, who has just returned from the eastern coast.

Afternoon Tea
Yesterday afternoon Mrs. George Troubridge opened her lovely home to the Woodlawn Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy for afternoon tea. Mrs. Troubridge is the president of the chapter and was assisted at the tea by her mother, Mrs. Edward Criddle, and her daughter, Dorothy.

Formal Debut
Miss Alice Hicks will make her formal debut at a dancing party which her mother, Mrs. Frank S. Hicks, is giving at the Los Angeles Country Club. This interesting event will take place on the life, except the time she spent away at school and a trip abroad. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Spear of Los Angeles and San Francisco. He is a graduate of the University of California and Boston School of Technology. The couple will spend their honeymoon in the East but are expecting to be at home before the holidays.

evening of November 15, and Mrs. Hicks will have in the receiving line with her, her daughter, Mrs. Robert Frank Gross.

Guests Arriving
A number of the regular winter guests are arriving daily at the Hotel Maryland. Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Vreeland of Long Island will arrive on November 1, also Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Seeger and Mrs. Pauline Seeger. The Seegers have been spending the summer at their country place in Massachusetts. Among others arriving next week are Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Dagot of New York, Mrs. Alexander and her sister, Mrs. John Ewing.

Mah Jongg Luncheon
Miss Wynne Maxon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Maxon, who will be a witness for the government during the trial before United States District Judge Bledsoe and a jury next Tuesday. The government will seek to show what the status of Dolley was at the time of the asserted commission of the crime, it being the contention of the defense that instead of being an agent of the Internal Revenue Department, that Dolley had no official status, and therefore Orsatti and Johnson committed no crime in seeking to influence Dolley in his reports on pending liquor cases.

But in the opinion of Judge Bledsoe, the overruling the demurrer, it would not make any difference what the position of Dolley was at the time, for the court said that whatever his office, it could be shown that the defendants sought to conspire with him to defraud a law they were guilty of conspiracy.

Dolley will be the principal witness for the government, supplemented by the co-defendant, Johnson, who, it is understood, will testify against Orsatti.

The case promises to be one of the most sensational in recent prosecution of liquor cases, largely on account of the prominence of Orsatti, who for thirty years has been a well known Spring-street merchant. It is believed the hearing will require several weeks.

The M. D., The B. D., The F. D. And Salads

The Doctor of Medicine says: "Two Salads a day keep the doctor away." The Beauty Doctor says: "All the vegetables and fruits used for salads make for a clear, fresh skin." The "Family Doctor"—the Homemaker—says: "The family disposition is more amiable—the family temper sweeter, when salads are served daily and when the dressing is the new-laid egg dressing—

DEMOCRATIC DENTISTRY

By PAINLESS PARKER

You can make quality goods, but unless you find a market you cannot continue to make them at a profit.

American goods are in the four corners of the globe. The American dollar is at a premium in all the markets of the world. American paper is as good as gold in every civilized country. Why? The Banker will say: "Balance of trade," and "gold reserve." The merchant points to salesmanship and quality. Both are right—but neither goes deep enough.

I am not a financier or an exporter. But I think I know the answer—that America has built up and held supremacy because she maintains a high standard of BUSINESS ETHICS and employs a generous amount of EDUCATIONAL PUBLICITY.

After you build a market you cannot maintain it unless people trust you. The two elements are inseparable in good business.

Banker, business man, rancher, miner or preacher—live up to the ETHICS OF GOOD BUSINESS—ADVERTISE YOUR PRODUCT constantly, and permanent SUCCESS will be your reward. I have proved that in the E. R. PARKER SYSTEM. It is the rule by which the Parker Organization has been built. The rule of common sense. The rule of common honesty. I know that dentistry is a necessity and not a luxury. I know that the masses of the people are suffering for the lack of it. Believe as long as the Dental Trust dominates dentistry that the people will continue to suffer and the one-man dentist will continue to represent economic waste. Here are brains and ability on the one side going to waste and urgent demand on the other side crying for service. I have brought them together in the E. R. PARKER SYSTEM. I have organized the brains and ability; I have advertised their organization. I have brought good dentistry within the reach of the masses. It is up to you, the public, to enforce that same action upon the dentists of the country at large. YOU PAY THE BILLS.

Dolley Arrives to Take Up Trial of Orsatti Case

Harold H. Dolley, in charge of prohibition agents in California, returned from San Francisco yesterday to prepare for the trial of Morris Orsatti and J. R. Johnson, who were indicted for an asserted attempt to bribe Dolley in the disposition of liquor cases in July, 1922.

Dolley was joined by Samuel Rutter, state prohibition agent, who will be a witness for the government during the trial before United States District Judge Bledsoe and a jury next Tuesday. The government will seek to show what the status of Dolley was at the time of the asserted commission of the crime, it being the contention of the defense that instead of being an agent of the Internal Revenue Department, that Dolley had no official status, and therefore Orsatti and Johnson committed no crime in seeking to influence Dolley in his reports on pending liquor cases.

But in the opinion of Judge Bledsoe, the overruling the demurrer, it would not make any difference what the position of Dolley was at the time, for the court said that whatever his office, it could be shown that the defendants sought to conspire with him to defraud a law they were guilty of conspiracy.

Dolley will be the principal witness for the government, supplemented by the co-defendant, Johnson, who, it is understood, will testify against Orsatti.

The case promises to be one of the most sensational in recent prosecution of liquor cases, largely on account of the prominence of Orsatti, who for thirty years has been a well known Spring-street merchant. It is believed the hearing will require several weeks.

PROPERTY TRANSFER CONTRACT QUESTIONED

Declaring he was ill at the time and feared he would not have long to live, John Collins yesterday filed an amended complaint in the Superior Court asking the court to annul a deed to property he valued at $6000 which he had signed eleven years ago in favor of Mrs. J. J. O'Connell and her husband, Stephen O'Connell. Collins said he believed the deed was drawn so as to transfer his property after his death but that he learned recently that the terms of the deed provided for conveying the property to the O'Connells without reservations.

Pretty Hair Guaranteed

costs you nothing if it fails

Any girl or woman who wants a world of lustrous, beautiful hair should try the remarkable Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage. It is absolutely guaranteed, in writing, to stop falling hair and to grow new hair or the user pays nothing. The gleaming hair you see everywhere is largely due to it. It is based on newly discovered scientific principles. Results are quick and amazing. Ask your druggist about Van Ess and the 3-bottle guarantee plan that comes with it. Costs you nothing if it fails. So it is folly not to test it.

Bishop DuBose Pleads for Contributions Retired Southern Methodists With

A plea for more generous contribution to the preachers' endowment fund was made yesterday by Bishop DuBose in an address at Trinity Methodist Church before delegates to the Pacific Conference of Southern Methodists. It was pointed out that the profits of the Southern Methodist Publishing House at Nashville, Tenn., together with the contributions received from the various churches of the country, amount only to a sum sufficient to give each retired preacher about $100 a year. "Such a meager annual allowance to the aged and infirm men who have given their lives to the service of the Lord and the welfare of their fellow-men is not to the credit of Southern Methodism," said Bishop DuBose, and he pleaded with his hearers to donate liberally toward the $100,000 endowment fund now being raised.

Annulment of Chorus Girl's Wedding Denied

Elsie Little, chorus girl, known on the stage as Elsie Leigh, is still the wife of Thomas Little, for his suit for annulment of marriage was denied by Judge Shaw yesterday. Little had asserted that his bride had never intended to live with him, deserting him in so on a tour with her company half an hour after the marriage ceremony, which occurred August 27, 1918.

The court held that no evidence had been introduced to the effect that Mrs. Little had made misrepresentations to Little before her marriage. Little is now entitled to sue for a divorce on the grounds of desertion.

According to his testimony, the marriage followed an engagement of but half an hour. They became betrothed at 3 o'clock, were married at 3:30, and separated at 3. Little told the court. A letter in which the wife said: "I have no intention of coming to California to live with you, as I do not care for you any more," was introduced in evidence.

Marie Le Blanc is coming to the city. The mere statement is an attraction to every woman in the city.

There is not in the world today a woman about whom so much is known and so much is talked about as Marie Le Blanc.

The beauty that is Marie Le Blanc is indisputable. She has been proclaimed by the French press as the most beautiful woman of the day.

She is not only a woman of beauty, but also a woman of talent. She is a pianist and a singer.

Her visit to the city is a great event. She will give a recital at the Los Angeles Recital.

The recital will be a masterpiece. It will be a recital of modern French music.

Marie Le Blanc is a woman of the future. She is a woman of the world.

She is a woman of the future. She is a woman of the world.

She is a woman of the future. She is a woman of the world.

She is a woman of the future. She is a woman of the world.

Any Wallace, aged 12, came home from school the other day looking very much distressed. Her mother asked a few discreet questions but Amy was not ready to explain. After supper, however, she broke out suddenly.

"Mother, is it nice and polite to criticize each other?"

Her mother was about to state emphatically that it was not—but she knew Amy. There was more to the question than there seemed to be. Mrs. Wallace hesitated.

"Why, not as a rule, my dear," she said kindly. "But there may be times when friendly criticism is justified. Who has been criticising you?"

Amy flushed. "Henry Wheeler has," she indignantly admitted.

"Oh! Well, what did Henry say?"

"He said I made a grammatical mistake."

"Perhaps you did," Mrs. Wallace looked curious at the unhappy little face. "Did you?" she asked.

Amy flushed again. "Yes, I did," she said. "He said I made a grammatical mistake."

A HELPFUL LETTER TO MOTHERS

"My dear Dr. Peters:

"My little 5 1/2-year-old daughter asked me to write and tell you that we have a baby girl who is just the same age as the Adorable Sockums. Ever since the first article about him appeared, I have read it aloud to her, and I know you would be more than pleased to see her little face light up when I tell her there is some more about him."

"You said in one article that you would like to hear of any little discovery of a helpful nature with babies, so I am going to tell you my method of training the baby in regard to its bowel movements. I find that it is much more convenient to train a baby to use a regular toilet rather than a chamber."

"It was always quite a task for me to hold the little chamber firmly between my knees, so one day I tried to take my baby, then only six weeks old, to the regular toilet. I put a folded napkin on the front of the seat, got down on my right knee on the floor, holding the baby on my left knee, supporting its back and head with my left arm, and holding both its feet in my right hand. This sounds rather complicated when I write it, but if you could see how very easily it's done, I am sure you could not help but approve."

"My baby is now 5 1/2 months old and uses the toilet to urinate regularly after each feeding and occasionally in between if I happen to be out of the room. She has at least six times during the day. This means a great many less diapers and much more comfort for the baby. Another great advantage is that no matter where you go, there is always a toilet for the baby. Another great advantage is that no matter where you go, there is always a toilet for the baby."

"Thank you, Mrs. G., for the helpful letter. I am sure many mothers will profit by it. An extra cover seat with a smaller opening could be made for this same purpose. At one of the New York health exhibitions, a young woman was demonstrating such a cover as this, combined with the ordinary cover, which she said her husband had made and had patented and was going to put on the market. I believe they are on the market now."

"One of you who don't mind Mrs. G.'s method works and do find, as she did, that it is difficult to hold the small chamber in the lap, might get one of these or have one made. If it were made in two parts hinged together, it could be used for the baby."

Patrolman Valenciella had just left his home at 2717 Polson street yesterday morning, on his way to report for work, when he noticed a suspicious-looking stranger coming out of a house next door.

The officer overhauled the stranger and placed him under arrest. At the Lincoln Heights Police Station the man gave his name as Francisco Vasquez. Later, Patrolman Critch identified Vasquez as the man whom he had surprised in the home of J. F. Bechard at 2721 University avenue on the night of the 5th inst. A gun battle followed, Critch said, but the burglar escaped. In the fight, however, the burglar had been shot. Vasquez is still suffering from a bullet wound in his right arm.

Hollywood Association Asks City Council to Prepare Plans at Once

The Hollywood Foothill Association yesterday petitioned the City Council to instruct the City Engineer to start work at once on the engineering plans for the Mulholland mountain scenic highway from Calabasas Pass to Calabasas, and offered free for the city's engineering work which the association has had done at its own expense to speed up the construction of the highway.

The road will be twenty-three miles long and forty feet in width and so constructed that it can be widened to 100 feet later. It will pass over the crest of the mountains between Hollywood and the San Fernando Valley and will be one of the greatest scenic drives in the world.

District bonds amounting to $1,000,000 to pay for the improvements were authorized at a special election held on the 5th inst. The finance committee of the City Council will consider the petition next Monday afternoon, and the committee is expected to order the district bonds sold at once so that the City Engineer can start work on the project.

"I've Got to Do Something with These Old Floors"

SHE looked at her wood floors ruefully. They were battered and bruised and dusty and shabby. "I've got to do something with these old floors," she said. Her thoughts ran back to years of scrubbing and staining and painting, and her heart sank at the prospect.

Then suddenly, like an inspiration, came the really worth-while thought: "Why not put down linoleum and have a floor that will never need to be refinished?"

The next day she saw the merchant who sold linoleum. She examined samples and she gave her order. The linoleum layer came and pasted a lining of builders' deadening felt to her shabby wood floor, and in each room the particular linoleum design selected was cemented down firmly and waterproofed around the edges.

Like dusting furniture. Immediately her disreputable floors were transformed. She had a smooth, solid, waterproof floor from that instant.

She had a floor that was easy to clean, for the dust that collected on it was only surface dust. Cleaning it was like dusting furniture.

Court Orders Dismissal on Technicality

Meyer Was Under Indictment for Bootlegging

Prosecution Undecided as to Future Course

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 25.—Indictment by which Mayor C. E. Stauter of Needles was charged with bootlegging was quashed today by Superior Judge Benjamin F. Warner on the technicality that the testimony of all the witnesses before the grand jury was not returned with the indictment as required by law.

Attaching the legality of the indictment Attorney Ralph E. Spring, representing the accused Mayor, declared that the testimony of J. G. Dugan, one of the witnesses called before the grand jury, had not been returned with the indictment as required by law.

Called as a witness T. H. Deane, secretary of the grand jury, testified at the hearing that "every witness had been heard in the Stauter case although he said he did not recall the names of the witnesses."

MAJOR STAUTER was indicted on the testimony of George J. Curry and P. G. Hughes, according to the true bill prepared by Dist. Atty. George H. Johnson, who contended that Dugan testified relative to the charges of larceny of law enforcement involving a score of needles residents, not particularly Mayor Stauter.

GUILTY AS AIDE IN SUICIDE

Death Pact Revealed When Husband Admits Buying and Taking Poison With Wife

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

FRESNO, Oct. 25.—Fred Phillips was today found guilty of helping his wife commit suicide. The verdict was returned by a jury in the court of Superior Judge Stanley Murray of Madera, sitting in extra session. Sentence will be pronounced by Judge Murray Monday morning. Punishment is imprisonment in the State penitentiary for one to five years.

Testifying in his own behalf, Phillips admits that he had purchased strychnine for his wife and that both had taken some of it as the result of a suicide pact.

Dr. Sample on the stand for the defense today, said he examined Phillips in the County Jail and that he was under "mental stress" at the time, restless, nervous and unable to properly digest his food.

He was called as a mental expert in an attempt on the part of the defense to prove that Phillips was not mentally sound at the time of the suicide pact.

The defendant yesterday admitted that he had purchased strychnine at a Clavis drug store, after he and his wife of forty-one years, Nora Phillips, "had talked it over" and decided to die together.

The couple sat down at the dinner table and took the poison, he said. They lay down on the bed and Phillips declared his mind became blank. He was discovered very ill next morning while his wife was dead.

HER DAILY DIP KEEPS GIRL FIT

Bathing Beauty Never Misses Swim

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

MISS LOUISE LYNCH

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Oct. 25.—A new record for consistency has been established in the Santa Monica Bay District by Miss Louise Lynch, bathing girl, who for 232 consecutive mornings, without exception has taken a dip in the ocean, before starting in the day's work.

Miss Lynch acquired the early morning swimming habit when just a small girl and has kept to the practice during the greater part of her life.

"There is nothing so beneficial to health as a daily dip in the ocean. It keeps one fit, invigorating and takes away that tired feeling so that one may be more fitted to give better service in her daily occupation," Miss Lynch explained.

ARMISTICE FETE IS LEGION PLAN

Pasadena Arrange for One
Day of Revelry

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

PASADENA, Oct. 25.—Plans for a patriotic celebration were launched today by the Pasadena Post of the American Legion. The event will be held Monday, November 12, in observance of Armistice Day. Business houses will be closed during the celebration.

In the morning a parade of patriotic organizations will move through the business district, arriving at Library Park, where a program will be given. Dr. John Marvin Dean will be in charge of it.

An Army and Navy spectacle will open the afternoon program, to be held in the Pasadena stadium. Following this a football game between Occidental College and California Institute of Technology will be played.

Between halves of the game a sham battle will take place, in which airplanes, cannon and other war equipment will take part.

The evening "A Night in Paris" will be staged at the Hotel Green, at which participants will dress in costumes worn in Paris on Armistice night. This will be followed by dancing.

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 25.—An economy war measure to leave South Pasadena's Chamber of Commerce homeless, unless the city fathers take pity on the organization.

A ruthless board of directors voted to give up expensive quarters in the One Building and discontinue with paid secretary before arrangements were made for another headquarters.

Some one saw the situation and dashed to the City Council with a request for a room in City Hall. The Council is now considering whether it has the legal right to give city space to a private organization.

The reason for the drastic economy drive by the Chamber lies in an asserted belief that money which has been spent on "overhead" may now be directed toward relief of the city's economic distress.
